

This is a story about a girl and her dragon. They find a maze and have to choose between a brick road and a levee road. They decide to take the levee road. They come to an open field and they both morph. The girl morphs into a fairy and the dragon morphs into a human. They get out of the maze and live happily ever after.

06/08/2007

